WORK OF THE GRAND JURY.

The grand jury submitted their final report on Saturday and were discharged. They inquired into eight cases and found indictments as follows: Murder, 1; assault with deadly weapon, 2; felony, 1; assault with intent to commit murder, 2; riot, 1; burglary, 1.

The several committees appointed to examine the county offices and public institutions made favorable reports, but the time at their disposal being too short for careful examinations of accounts and records, they recommended that an expert accountant be employed to examine the books of the several county offices.

The committee that examined the hospital and jail report that they found the hospital clean and everything about the premises in good repair. They state that the floor of the jail is in bad condition and unsafe, and recommend that it be repaired. Otherwise the condition of the jail is satisfactory.

The committee charged with the investigation of the county treasurer's office recommend the immediate purchase of a new time lock safe for the use of the treasurer.

District Attorney P. M. Thurnmond is commended for close attention to his duties.

In view of the prevalence of sickness this fall, attributed to bad sanitary conditions in Globe, we deem the doctor's report of sufficient importance to publish in full and it is here appended:

To the Honorable the Grand Jury of Gila County:—We, the undersigned, beg to report that having been called upon to report to your honorable body the conditions, sanitary or unsanitary, existing in Globe at present we find conditions as follows:

The main street of Globe at present is in a fairly clean condition and generally is, but apparently but little or no attention is given to the alleys of the town, and as a result refuse of all character is dumped into the alleys and serves as a nidus or growing place for the germs of disease. Not only is there refuse, but in one alley in particular great pools of water collect, owing to faulty drainage, and there it remains, bringing about the ideal conditions for unhealthy states, viz: heat, moisture and decomposing vegetable matter. Further we find that the conditions existing in the yards of various places of business as well as at private residences is not what it should be, and we would recommend that the proper officers be instructed to have a thorough cleaning take place, and where water is allowed to collect and remain, as in the alleys spoken of, that means be taken to drain it away. We believe that the unsanitary conditions of Globe are primarily dependent upon the contaminated water supply obtained in Globe, and would call attention to the fact that the fever, e. g. typhoid and bowel troubles, dysentery and diarrhoea are caused by the contamination of the well waters by cess pools on the one hand and surface filth on the other, and while we cannot remove the one we can, by strict attention to such sanitary measures as cleaning alleys, streets and yards, prevent the surface contamination to a large extent and thereby lessen materially this obvious source of danger to our water supply.

Respectfully submitted,
B. G. FOX, M. D.,
T. SHIELDS COLLINS, M. D.

According to a late estimate in the Alaska Mining Record, the output of gold in Alaska this year will be over 50 per cent larger than last year, when it was about $3,000,000. The total for this year is placed at $4,670,000, of which $2,225,000 comes from quartz mines and $2,445,000 from placers.

The Anaconda Copper Mining Company paid a dividend of $1,500,000 in October to its English shareholders, who purchased it for $34,000,000. Now it is reported in Montana that before the end of the year a dividend of $3,000,000 will be declared by the company.

The California Miners' Association and the press of California, Colorado and other mining states are moving for the establishment of a department of mines in the federal government, justified by the magnitude and growing importance of the mining industry. The Mining and Scientific Press suggests that the desired legislation could be secured by the co-operation of all the states in which mining is an important industry. If the states in which coal, iron and copper mining are leading industries would see to it that their representatives in the House and their Senators vote for the measure, it would pass with little opposition.

Hope of statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, in view of the election of McKinley, stands aghast. Purbled politicians may not have discovered that silver territories, representing six congressional votes, are likely to receive as cool a reception from a gold bug administration as was accorded the devil upon meeting St. Peter, the celestial turnkey, at the gate of paradise, and who denied him entrance even through the rear portal to that heavenly abode.

The experiment station is preparing popular bulletins on the Australian salt bush and weeds which are encountered in Arizona. The former plant is an absolute necessity in Australia as a forage plant, and it is believed that it can be grown to advantage here. It is especially valuable in taking the alkali out of the soil, thus reclaiming land now valueless for agriculture. It will therefore thrive where nothing else will grow.—Southwestern Stockman.

It was a Bangor, Me., philosopher who summed up a church fair thus: "A church fair is a place where we spend more money than we can afford for things we do not want, in order to please people and to help heathens who are happier than we are." The Bangor quidnunc might truthfully have added the money thus collected is but a drop in the bucket annually expended in the endeavor to cause the heathen to "turn over a new leaf" and accept God as a tutelary benefactor, as an auxiliary job. In the past decade Uncle Sam's expenditure has quintupled that of the missionary fund. Only recently was the presence of United States warships necessary during the refreshing season of conversion in China and Turkey.

DR. ALEX. TRIPPEL.

Announcement of the death of Dr. Alex. Trippe, in New York City Nov. 26, occasioned sincere regret among his many friends and acquaintances in Globe, who esteemed him for his worth, and will always hold him in kindly remembrance.

The doctor had been for some time past superintendent of the Rosemont copper mines, near Tucson. On Nov. 5 he was called to New York for consultation with Lewisohn Bros., owners of the property, and on the trip east he contracted a severe cold which terminated in pneumonia, and owing to the doctor's advanced age and feebleness recovery was impossible.

Dr. Trippe was a native of Switzerland, and was in his seventieth year. He graduated at the University of Heidelberg, and when quite a young man came to New York City and soon gained recognition as an engineer and metallurgist of ability. He was for a number of years actively engaged in mining in Nevada. In the summer of 1883 he came to Globe, Arizona, and filled the position of metallurgist for the Old Dominion Copper Company. A year later he was appointed superintendent of that company, succeeding Supt. Thomas. Under Dr. Trippe's economical and able management the Old Dominion Copper Company prospered—copper was produced at a less cost than ever before and the extensive development work done demonstrated the permanency and great value of the mine. The doctor's connection with the company terminated in 1887, when operations were suspended owing to the depression in the copper industry which made copper mining in Globe district unprofitable. He then engaged in mining on his own account, and subsequently, in connection with the J. Liberman & Co., he secured a lease on the Buffalo copper property, and after operating it for a time sold the lease to Prof. James Douglass and his associates.

The doctor leaves three children—E. J. Trippe, register of the land office at Tucson; A. L. Trippe, of Florence, and a daughter residing in Brooklyn, N. Y., who was with him during his sickness and death.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria Times, California, in speaking of the various ailments of children said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by H. C. Hitchcock, druggist.
